The Movie [MULTI6] PC SKIDROW1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a polyester fiber with a low-temperature shrinkage as well as its production process. 2. Description of the Related Art Polyester fiber materials are typically used in the fields of covering materials and the like for clothes such as curtains, furnitures and sportswear, interior materials and the like for buildings such as walls and ceilings, and in the fields of paper making and book binding materials, industrial materials, and general industrial materials. The properties of the polyester fiber materials are such that they have satisfactory heat resistance and wear resistance, they are resistant to chemicals and weathering and wear, and they exhibit excellent mechanical properties, such as strength and abrasion resistance, and furthermore, they do not melt even at a low temperature. For these reasons, such polyester fiber materials are widely used
